Meet the Chief of Tsali

Hello, my name is Samuel Brown, and I am excited to be your Lodge Chief for the 2020-21 lodge year! I am an 18 year old Eagle Scout from Troop 40, and am a Vigil Honor member in Tsali Lodge. In my bio from last year's introductory newsletter, I said that "The next year will be the greatest year our lodge has ever had," and even though Tsali Lodge was hit with many roadblocks to the success of our program over the past year, with the big one being the coronavirus, I believe that we lived up to that statement. We overcame the challenges of running our programs during the coronavirus pandemic and hosted two of the most successful Lodge events in years. Because of our success over the past year, we are in the best position possible to have a fighting chance at the title of 2021 Lodge of the Year, the same year we host the Section Conclave at Camp Daniel Boone. Obtaining Lodge of the Year won't be easy, and we will need to continue the momentum we have gained over the past few months into the next year to be successful, but if any group of Tsali Lodge officers can keep that momentum going, it's this year's group of Lodge Officers. We have the best Vice Chiefs, Chapter Chiefs, Secretary, and Treasurer in the Section, and because of them and the awesome members of our Lodge, this next year will be even greater than the last. If you need anything from me relating to OA, Tsali Lodge, or Scouting in general, don't hesitate to email me at lodge.chief@tsalilodge.org and I will get back to you as soon as possible.

Speaking of Conclave, I'm super excited to put in the effort to host our fellow lodges and show them how amazing our lodge is!

Description of Lodge Activities & Events

Lodge Leadership Development (February 26-28)

The purpose of the Lodge Leadership Development is to build the team of lodge leaders who will guide Tsali Lodge for the coming year. This training event consists of several sessions over the weekend that will help attendees focus their attentions on the issues and leadership responsibilities that the lodge needs to function at its highest level while simultaneously attaining Scouting's Journey to Excellence distinction.

Carolinas Indian Seminar (Cancelled due to COVID-19)

CIS is a wonderful place to learn new skills and make lifelong friends and an excellent weekend of instruction, dance, crafts, fun, and fellowship. This event is open to everyone with a desire to learn. There are approximately 125 classes available with instructors traveling from all over the United States to teach. They are extremely knowledgeable and always happy to answer your questions. The weekend begins with a Powwow on Friday night and All dancers are welcome.

Spring Fellowship (April 9-11)

Spring Fellowship is a weekend of fun, games, and fellowship. It is a time to reconnect and visit with fellow Arrowmen as well as practice IA activities and meet and work on lodge committee meetings. At every spring fellowship, we do a small work project to benefit camp, eat lots of good food, patch trade, and conduct committee meetings. Not only that, but we also have several quest events at each fellowship. Quest events includes things such as kick ball, arrow toss, tent pitching, tug of war, knot tying really and more; sometimes we even offer archery and tomahawk throwing.

Cornerstone Conclave (April 23-25)

Every year, the lodges in a section gather for an event known as a conclave. This year, we have the honor of hosting it at our own Camp Daniel Boone. During a conclave, a section gathers for fellowship and the sharing of skills and best practices. Over the years, SR-5 has distinguished itself through a nationally known program. From our unique competitions such as totem pole carving to patch trading, spirit, and amazing food, it's a once-in-a-lifetime experience for those who can attend.

Spring Ordeal (May 14-16)

"The induction process, called the Ordeal, is the first step toward full membership in the Order. Upon completion of the Ordeal and its ceremony, the member is expected to strengthen his involvement in the unit and encourage Scout camping. "Fellow Arrowmen and candidates together help with maintaining Camp Daniel Boone during the Ordeal.

Summer Ordeal (August 20-22)

Summer ordeal is an event very similar to spring ordeal except held toward the end of august. This event gives selected scouts another opportunity to become a part of the order if they could not attend spring ordeal. The service project is different than spring ordeal and gives more opportunity for people to earn their spot into our lodge.

Fall Fellowship (October 1-3)

Fall Fellowship is the lodge's largest event of the year and is similar to Spring Fellowship. However, in addition to some of our regular activities we have re-designed our quest events and added several fun activities like a water balloon fight, canoe race, archery, tomahawk throwing, and rock climbing! Annual lodge elections are held during Fall Fellowship.

Winter Banquet (December 4)

For the Order of the Arrow wintertime means one thing...our annual Winter Banquet! Youth and adult Arrowmen, as well as their family and friends, are invited to attend our banquet. This time of food and fellowship is our opportunity to recognize those who have gone above and beyond in their service to the Lodge and Council, as well as welcome our new brothers who have been inducted over the past year. At the Winter Banquet short speeches will be made by all the outgoing lodge leadership, new officers will also be inducted, and the banquet will close with the Lodge Adviser's Minute and a benediction. The Banquet will also be a good time to get to know your fellow brothers. We hope to see you there!

OA Day of Service (multiple days throughout the year)

The Order of the Arrow will conduct Days of Service throughout the year where we will clean and repair Camp as well as other various projects for the community. This year, we'll have workdays on February 13, February 27, March 13, March 27, April 3, and April 17 to prepare for Conclave. We'll also have a few more workdays, with the dates of those TBA.

Ways to get Involved

Elangomats

Elangomats provide examples to candidates of the Order of the Arrow during the Ordeal. They undergo the Ordeal voluntarily to show the new members what it means to be a member of the Order of the Arrow. The Elangomat also serves as a friend and coach to the New Member after the Ordeal, and for at least the next 6 months. The Elangomat calls the New Member periodically to check on their progress as an Arrowman and keeps them abreast of Chapter and Lodge activities. They encourage their Scouting Unit, but also encourage Chapter and Lodge service and their membership conversion to the Brotherhood.

Ceremonies Team

Youth members of the Ceremonies Team can be Principles, Seconds for Principles, Torchbearers, or other helpers. Adult members may be coaches or helpers. Lodge Committees: There are plenty of available positions in the lodge's various committees for both chairmen and advisers. Committees function under the Vice-Chiefs and having somebody in charge of and advising each committee would greatly help lodge organization and operation.

Dance and Sing Teams

Members have the opportunity to participate in the lodge's American Indian Dancing team, as well as individual dancing. The group dance team uses authentic Cherokee Indian Regalia, and if you dance individually, you get to design your own outfit for competition. You can make your own original dance steps, and you can choose how to make your outfit. Each dance style has guidelines for outfits, but the majority of individual dancing is personal preference. Adults can assist youth by being dance mentors or by helping out at our various regalia workshops held throughout the year. We have formed a drum and sing team for competition, so you can also be a part of that if dancing is not quite your thing.

OA Troop Representative

If you are interested in representing the Order of the Arrow within your troop and your troop within the OA, talk to your Senior Patrol Leader about being your Troop's OA Representative.

You can encourage others in your troop to participate in OA events and take important roles. You also will help your unit leaders to arrange troop OA elections to bring new members into the lodge.

Chapter Officer

Each Chapter elects a chapter chief at Fall Fellowship. The chapter chief coordinates the activities of the chapter, utilizing OA Troop Representatives and appointed committees: to encourage continued lodge membership and brotherhood conversion; to carry out chapter service projects; to hold troop elections and camp promotion; communicate within the chapter to encourage participation in lodge events.

The Cherokee Legend of "Tsali".
By Lowell Kirk

Under the terms of the fraudulent 1836 Treaty of New Echote, all Cherokee who lived within the Cherokee Nation was required to give up their homeland and remove west of the Mississippi River to Indian Territory. As of May 1838, only a few had done so. General Winfield Scott arrived at Calhoun, Tennessee in command of about 7,000 soldiers to forcible remove almost 16,000 Cherokee to the west. More than 25 stockades were established in North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama to be used as "holding pens" for the Cherokee until they could be marched to Rattlesnake Springs. From there, they would begin the forced march under armed escort known as the Trail of Tears.

Tsali was one of the "traditionalist" Cherokee who had not been involved in the heated debates over the removal policy. He lived with his wife and three sons in a cabin near the mouth of the Nantahala River, where it flows into the Little Tennessee, near present day Bryson City, North Carolina. After an 1819 treaty, he, as well as about 1000 other Cherokee at Quallatown, lived outside the boundaries of the Cherokee Nation. Like most of the North Carolina Cherokee, he had been somewhat bypassed by the "progress" that had been made by those Cherokee who had accepted the "white man's" road after 1794. Most of the "Progressive" Cherokee lived in Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama. Most of the Cherokee who lived in the mountains of Western North Carolina were "traditionalists."

Tsali farmed a small hillside plot and hunted to provide for his family. Only now and then did an occasional bit of news about the troubles in Georgia trickle into this area of North Carolina. When the Federal troops began rounding up the Cherokee in May of 1838, it would be the primitive or "traditionalists" in North Carolina who made up the bulk of the Cherokee who refused to go to Oklahoma. They had always been outside the mainstream of Cherokee "progress", and did not live within the boundaries of the Cherokee nation as it existed from 1819 to 1838. As the historical events of 1838 began to unfold, Tsali would become a legendary hero to the Cherokee.

When James Mooney of the Smithsonian Institute lived with the Cherokee from 1887 to 1890, this is the story he was told. Tsali's brother-in-law came to Tsali's cabin in May of 1838 and told Tsali of the 7,000 soldiers who were rounding up the Cherokee to take them to a land where the setting sun bent down to touch the earth. General Winfield Scott had said that all Cherokee people must begin the long march west before the next new moon. Tsali did not understand why the Cherokee must go, and he only thought of it for a few moments as he sat by the fire puffing his pipe. The next day he went back to his fields, with little more thought of it. And while Tsali worked his fields, the soldiers were rounding up the Cherokee and putting them in the more than 25 stockades, in preparation for the long march west. Some Cherokee believed that Tsali began dreaming of a dream of how his people might stay in their native hills. After all, that is the stuff of legends. But it is most likely that Tsali was only concerned for his crops and a good harvest to feed his family through the long winter. Soon the soldiers arrived at Tsali's cabin and told him that he and his family must go to the stockade at Bushnell, down the Little Tennessee River from Tsali's cabin. The site of Bushnell is now covered by the waters of TVA's Fontana Lake. Although Tsali did not understand, he offered no resistance. With his wife, his sons and his brother-in-law's family, they headed toward the Bushnell stockade carrying only a few things which they had managed to put into bundles. Four soldiers escorted them. According to the story which was told to Mooney, somewhere along the way, one of the soldiers prodded Tsali's wife with a bayonet, to quicken her steps. Tsali became angry. In the Cherokee language, Tsali told the other Cherokee to get prepared to take the soldier's guns when he pretended to fall, and they would escape into the hills. In the resulting scuffle, a soldier's gun discharged and ripped a hole in the side of his own head. Tsali had intended no bloodshed, but his family quickly ran into the woods and proceeded to a cave in the mountains under Clingman's Dome.

U.S. Military records give another version of the story. Second Lieutenant Andrew Jackson Smith, accompanied by three soldiers, had captured the Tsali group of twelve, five men, seven women and some children. In the morning of November 1, Smith led the "prisoners" back toward the stockade at Bushnell. Having made a camp, Smith warned his men to be on guard for trouble. Shortly thereafter, one of the Cherokees drew a hidden ax and sunk it in the forehead of one of the three soldiers. In the next moments, a second soldier was killed, and the third was wounded. Smith claimed that his horse became frightened and ran away, saving Smith's life, according to his official report. The Cherokee then fled, after taking some articles from the soldiers. Smith went to the Bushnell stockade, took the Cherokee who had been previously collected there and marched to Ft. Cass at Calhoun where he made his official report to Gen Scott on Nov 5.

This brings up a question. How could four United States military personal, carrying rifles, one on horseback when they were supposedly camped, be overpowered by five Cherokee men and seven women and children, who were apparently armed with only one ax small enough to be hidden on a man's body? In Lt. Smith's report there was no mention of a soldier prodding Tsali's wife with a bayonet. However, what United States "officer and a gentleman" would report to his superior that one of his soldiers prodded an old woman with a bayonet, if it had happened as the Cherokee story related. On November 6, General Scott gave orders to Colonel William S. Foster to hunt down and shoot the "murderers." Foster was ordered to "collect all, or as many as practicable, of the fugitives (other than the murderers) for emigration." The aid of Drowning Bear and Will Thomas was enlisted. Thomas was the white adopted son of Chief Drowning Bear of the Quallatown band. As the Quallatown Band lived outside of the Cherokee Nation, they were not required by law to emigrate. Thanks to Will Thomas General Scott made a distinction between the Quallatown Band living near the Oconaluftee River and "fugitives". Thomas had convinced General Scott that the Quallatown Band had promised not to hide any of the "fugitives", referring to those who had fled from their homes within the Cherokee national boundaries. Even John Rose, Chief of the Cherokee Nation, sent his condolences to General Scott for the murders, saying that the Cherokee Nation should not be held responsible for this "individual" occurrence. Colonel Foster entered the upper Little Tennessee country with nine companies of the U.S. Fourth Infantry. A tenth company had proceeded toward the Oconaluftee with Will Thomas, under the command of Lieutenant Larned. Apparently, Thomas convinced the Quallatown Cherokee that if they would help catch Tsali and the other "murderers," they would be allowed to stay in North Carolina.

So, the Oconaluftee Cherokee provided a total force of about sixty men to capture the "murderers," when ten companies of U.S. troops could not! Soon the Cherokee turned over to Colonel Foster Tsali's oldest son, Nantayalee Jake, and Tsali's brother-in-law, Nantayalee George, whom Foster claimed were the "principal actors in the murder." Tsali's wife and the wife of Nantayalee George and her small daughter had also been brought in by the Oconaluftee Cherokee. By November 24, Foster reported that of the twelve Cherokee present at the murder site, all but Tsali had been captured. Three adult males were executed. The Cherokee themselves made up the sixman firing squad. Tsali's youngest son was spared, along with Tsali's wife. Colonel Foster announced that removal had officially ended and the rest of the Indians in hiding could join their brothers at Quallatown, on the Oconaluftee. Will Thomas had convinced Foster that Tsali had played only a minor role in the affair, and so Foster's Fourth Infantry left the mountains, their mission complete. After Foster had left Bushnell, Tsali was brought in by other Quallatown Cherokee. At noon on the next day, Tsali was tied to a tree and shot in the same manner as the other three.

Colonel Foster's final report on the affair, dated December 3, 1838 reported Tsali's execution, and commended Drowning Bear for his assistance. Foster also asked that one of the "fugitive" groups under the leadership of Euchella, who had helped in the capture of Tsali, be allowed to stay with the Quallatown Cherokee. The commissioners for the Cherokee removal officially agreed to allow such in January, 1839. Soon, the story of Tsali became a legend and inspiration among Quallatown Cherokee. It was widely reported that Tsali had willingly surrendered so that the Federal troops would leave the North Carolina mountains and allow the Quallatown Cherokee to remain in their ancient homeland. Although the Federal government had declared that the removal was over, for the rest of the century the government continued to make efforts to get the Quallatown Cherokee to emigrate to the west. It was the legend of Tsali, and the belief that he had selflessly given his life in order that some of his people could remain in their beloved mountains. In the hearts and minds of the Cherokee people today, Tsali still lives! And so, do more than 10,000 Cherokee today, in the center of their ancient homeland.
